

Pro Bono

Winstead supports the right to legal representation. Our attorneys, paralegals and legal assistants donate numerous hours each year to a wide variety of organizations and individuals. Below are a few representative pro bono projects:

- Volunteer legal time and resources to local county phone lines
- Volunteer legal time and resources to local programs offering Equal Access to Justice for indigent and/or underprivileged individuals
- Working with FUNED of Honduras, a Tegucigalpa-based organization to provide life-transforming business loans in third-world countries
- Assisted disabled individuals with obtaining and sustaining social security benefits
- Counseled individuals faced with deportation and other immigration-related issues
- Assisted in numerous divorce and custody proceedings
- Participated in the ABA's Death Penalty Representation Project and provided assistance in several habeas corpus proceedings
- Volunteered legal time and resources to assist a Houston nonprofit organization that places hard-to-adopt children in caring homes
- Assisted the South Dallas Inner-City Community Development Corporation in taking ownership of five properties for development of community projects in Dallas
- Counseled ARTS Center Stage, an Austin nonprofit supervising the redevelopment of the Municipal Auditorium
- Donated legal services and other resources to assist in the design, permitting and construction of a building for Vogel Alcove, a day-care facility for homeless children
