

Bring-Your-Own-Device: Are Employers Opening the Door to Security and Legal Risks?

09.13.13

According to a recent press release by Gartner, Inc., a global technology research and advisory company, half of all employers are expected to require their employees to supply their own devices for work by 2017. A well-implemented and maintained mobile initiative, like a bring-your-own-device (BYOD) workplace, has its benefits, such as driving innovation, creating new... Continue Reading
