

Bankruptcy Court In Texas Held That Client Did Not Adequately Plead An Aiding and Abetting Breach of Fiduciary Duty Claim Against Former Attorneys

04.30.18

In In re Westech Capital Corp., a bankruptcy trustee sued a company's former attorneys for breaching fiduciary duties and also for aiding and abetting the breach of fiduciary duty. No. 16-10300-TMD, 2018 Bankr. LEXIS 969 (W.D. Tex. Bankr. March 29, 2018). The attorneys filed a motion to dismiss. The court first determined that, under Delaware..... Continue Reading