

New Year's Resolutions for Majority Owners: Promoting Peace With Partners in 2019

01.07.19

Conflicts with business partners are not just a serious distraction for majority owners of private companies, these ownership disputes can be expensive, time-consuming and harmful to the long-term prospects of the business. The start of a new year is therefore a great time for majority owners to consider whether there are steps they can take...