

Texas Supreme Court Holds That Parties Can Conclusively Agree That, As Between Themselves, No Partnership Will Exist Unless Certain Conditions Are Satisfied

02.05.20

In Energy Transfer Partners, L.P. v. Enter. Prods. Partners, L.P., one pipeline company sued another for breaching a duty of loyalty that allegedly arose out of a partnership to develop a pipeline. No. 17-0862, 2020 Tex. LEXIS 46 (Tex. January 31, 2020). One company decided to no longer work with the other and developed the... Continue Reading
