

SEC Adopts Amendments to "Accredited Investor" Definition

11.16.20

The Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") recently adopted amendments to the definition of "accredited investor," which will permit a wider range of investors to participate in certain private offerings. The amended definition includes several new categories of natural persons and entities who qualify as accredited investors for purposes of Rule 501(a) of Regulation D...