

Court Held That An Heir Of An Estate Who Released All Claims Against The Estate Via A Settlement Agreement No Longer Had Standing To Bring Suit

02.05.21

In In the Estate of Maberry, the alleged common-law wife of an intestate decedent did not have standing to seek to remove the decedent's daughter as independent administrator because she was not an "interested person" following her voluntary release of all her rights in the estate in a settlement agreement. No. 11-18-00349-CV, 2020 Tex. App....

Continue Reading