

It's Critical to Protect Your Proprietary Information

10.03.13

Lawsuits against employees and contractors, including consultants, for unauthorized use of a company's confidential and proprietary information are common. For instance, on July 29, Abunassar Impact Basketball LLC filed suit against a former employee and a company he founded alleging that he "gathered Abunassar's confidential and proprietary information in order to help start a new... Continue Reading