

Labor and Employment Attorney Taylor E. White Joins Winstead

10.29.20

Winstead PC is pleased to announce that Taylor E. White, a labor and employment attorney, has joined the firm as a shareholder in the firm's Dallas office.

White represents business employers in litigation and transactions, as well as policymaking and implementation involving difficult labor and employment issues. Clients across a wide range of industries turn to White for counsel involving all types of discrimination, including race, age, sex, veteran status and disability. He advises employers regarding laws governing safety, harassment, retaliation, breach of contract and employment-related torts, and counsels clients on litigation avoidance strategies. White is also experienced in piecing together the complex facts and issues presented in matters involving OSHA and other statutes.

"I was attracted to Winstead because of its attorneys' stellar reputations for serving as zealous advocates on behalf of their clients," White said. "I admire how the firm is hyper-focused on client service and professionalism without losing sight of the personal and emotional challenges that clients often face in courts and conference rooms."

White is recognized in Texas Super Lawyers Rising Stars by Thomson Reuters for Employment & Labor from 2015-2020. He received a J.D., summa cum laude, from the University of Arkansas School of Law, and earned a B.A., cum laude, from the University of Arkansas.

"Taylor's labor and employment law experience and his deep knowledge of OSHA matters position him as a valuable resource to our clients," said David Dawson, Winstead Chairman and CEO. "Taylor shares Winstead's dedication to exceptional client service, and we are thrilled to have him on our team."

Attorneys in Winstead's Labor & Employment Practice Group are adept at defending clients against discrimination claims, defeating harassment litigation at summary judgment, and drafting and enforcing strategic employment agreements. When disputes arise, Winstead attorneys help minimize risks, ensuring regulatory compliance and improving clients' competitive opportunities. Industry strengths include manufacturing, transportation, construction, national retail, healthcare and technology, and our clients range from Fortune 500 to mid-sized companies.
