

Winstead Launches New Blog for Technology Companies - “WinTech”

06.10.13

Dallas, TX, Jun 10, 2013 — Winstead has launched a new blog dedicated to technology companies, WinTech (www.WinTech.com), which serves as a go-to resource for important news, updates, and strategies. The WinTech blog covers a broad spectrum of technology related matters impacting both established and startup companies, including: venture capital, equity and financing, public offerings and IPOs, mergers and acquisitions, patent prosecutions, trademark and copyright procurement, technology license and transfer agreements, software license and development agreements, distribution agreements, manufacturing and supply agreements, IP litigation, business litigation, and various news and events relevant to the technology industry.

Lead writers for the blog are Winstead attorneys with extensive experience advising clients in the unique role and risks associated with managing technology. The writers have a detailed understanding of the legal and technical knowledge required to maintain an edge in the in the highly competitive and ever changing technology environment.

A significant part of Winstead’s client service is dedicated to the technology industry, which gives Winstead attorneys significant knowledge in meeting the rapidly evolving needs of technology clients. Winstead’s technology industry group works collaboratively with many practices within the firm to ensure that clients receive the most efficient, targeted and cost-effective solutions possible.

Winstead is among the largest business law firms in Texas. Winstead attorneys and consultants serve as trusted advisors to mid-market and large businesses, providing a core range of legal services that are critical to their operation and success. Winstead currently has offices in Austin, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio, and The Woodlands, Texas; Charlotte, North Carolina; New Orleans, Louisiana and Washington, D.C. For detailed information about Winstead, visit www.winstead.com.

MEDIA CONTACT:

Shannon Tipton, 214/745-5308
stipton@winstead.com