Miracon Technologies, LLC

"Jamie McDole took over as lead counsel in our company's complex multi-party, multi-district IP litigation after our original law firm lost a key Markman issue, effectively decimating our case. Immediately upon engagement, Mr. McDole and his team developed a deep understanding of the issues and crafted a comprehensive strategy for success. He convinced the Court to reconsider and reverse its previous, adverse Markman Order, dissected the Defendants' invalidity theories one by one, extracted the truth from scores of deponents, and won virtually every motion until the case was successfully settled just before trial. Mr. McDole changed the course of the litigation and our company's future as a direct result of his strategic vision, tenacious pursuit of the facts, and consistent focus on winning. The Defendants engaged numerous large, international law firms throughout the litigation, but I truly believe that Mr. McDole and his team were superior attorneys and best in class."
