

Libby Bloxom

Associate

Practices: Corporate, Commercial Transactions & Outsourcing

Industries: Airlines

Libby Bloxom is a member of Winstead's Corporate, Commercial Transactions & Outsourcing Practice Group. Libby advises on a broad array of commercial transactions in the areas of procurement and disposition, distribution, licensing, and outsourcing of business processes primarily in the airlines, supply chain, and transportation industries.

Prior to joining Winstead, Libby's practice focused on international trade regulatory and cross-border transactional matters, including foreign direct investment, industrial security, export controls, sanctions, customs matters, and antidumping and countervailing duties.

Before attending law school, Libby served as a Peace Corps Volunteer in Swaziland, where she lived and taught at the Siteki Primary School for the Deaf.
