

Scott Eidman

Associate

Practices: Public Finance

Scott Eidman is a member of Winstead's Public Finance Practice Group. His practice is focused on public finance, local government and administrative law with an emphasis on representing special districts. He serves as general counsel and bond counsel to special districts, including municipal utility districts, fresh water supply districts, municipal management districts, special utility districts and water control and improvement districts. Scott also represents developers in matters that involve approval by state agencies that regulate special districts such as the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality and the Public Utility Commission of Texas.

Professional & Community Service

- State Bar of Texas
- American Bar Association
- National Association of Bond Lawyers
- Dallas Bar Association

Admissions

- Texas, 2011

Dallas Office

214.745.5484 Direct
214.745.5390 Fax
seidman@winstead.com

Education

South Texas College of Law
– J.D., 2011

Southern Methodist University
– B.A., 2004